DEDICATION ...

As secretary to the Dean of the College, she has many opportunities to help the administration, faculty, and students. We all appreciate the gracious spirit with which she handles our daily problems. We are grateful for her gentle manner and real concern for us and our college. To the lady who embodies the best of the Jacksonville State traditions and ideals, we dedicate the 1960 MIMOSA:

MRS. AARON HAND

The Ramona Wood Library will bear the marks of the influence and dedication left by this librarian whose untimely death ended a bright career. Recognized throughout the state for her efficiency, she held a place of respect among her fellow-librarians and her co-workers:

MILDRED JOHNSTON

IN MEMORIAM...

The J.S.C. Music Department stands as a monument to this quiet, unassuming man who set up the organization and shaped its spectacular growth. His relationship with music graduates helped to cement ties that have proved invaluable to the college. It can be truthfully said that the good he has done "will live after him."

WALTER MASON

I know a college campus
Where deserving ones are honored
And occasions are long remembered.
This is a place to use our minds,
Where teamwork is encouraged,
And a sense of belonging prevails.
Yet, preparation comes before responsibility
And creation of the beautiful is possible.
Here much is given
And much is expected
And nothing is taken for granted.
This is Jacksonville State.

BUILDINGS...

BIBB GRAVES HALL houses the administrative offices and a majority of the academic departments. The Book Store, the President's Lounge, the Little Auditorium, and the "Grab" are found here.

HAMMOND HALL houses the dining facilities. Operated as a cafeteria, it serves the students who live on the campus as well as some of those who commute.

The ROTC BUILDING, located on the old campus, houses the offices, classrooms, and equipment of the local ROTC Unit. It is the center of all military instruction and activities.

The HOME MANAGEMENT HOUSE is set up as a home-like establishment to give home economics majors experience in the care and management of a home. It also serves as a laboratory in personal relationships, giving students an opportunity to get along with others and to work cooperatively in a group situation.

The MUSIC BUILDING contains classrooms, a large rehearsal hall, studios and practice rooms. It is also equipped with pianos, an organ, band and orchestra instruments, and a large library of records and sheet music. The building is used exclusively by the music department.

The LEONE COLE AUDITORIUM is a beautifully appointed and effectively arranged building for the presentation of any dramatic or musical program. It adjoins the high school on the south side of the campus.

AYERS HALL is a modern structure which is located on the north side of the campus, housing the departments of biology, chemistry, physics, LOGAN HALL is a new three-story dormitory which accommodates primarily sophomore and junior men. The building is equipped for approximately two hundred students.

The PHYSICAL EDUCATION BUILDING has one of the largest gymnasiums in the state. It is equipped for physical education and indoor athletic contests as well as for informal play hours. The gymnasium is also used for school dances during the year.

The RAMONA WOOD LIBRARY is an efficiently arranged building with comfortable, well-lighted rooms. The stacks now contain more than fifty thousand volumes.

The PRESIDENT'S HOME, located on the north side of the campus, is the residence of the president of the college. Many receptions are held here each year.

The HIGH SCHOOL BUILDING is a thoroughly up-to-date building which serves the college as a laboratory school for those students who are going into secondary education.

DAUGETTE HALL, a dormitory primarily for freshman women, is a two-story brick building. Accommodating approximately two hundred students, the building contains several lounges and reception rooms.

FRESHMAN HALL, a dormitory for freshman men, is located on the north-west side of the campus. It is equipped for approximately one hundred and fifty students.

KILBY HALL, located on the old campus, serves as an elementary school and as a laboratory for those college students who are preparing for elementary education. The latest addition is that of eight classrooms and a lunchroom.

The DORA WOOD HOME ECONOMICS cottage is the setting for the high school home economics classes. It also serves as a laboratory school for practice teachers from the college in the field of home economics.

PANNELL HALL, a dormitory for sophomore, junior, and senior women, is a three-story building which accommodates approximately two hundred and forty students.

ABERCROMBIE HALL is a two-story dormitory for senior men. Accommodating approximately eighty-five students, this building also has a lounge and a recreation room.

The INTERNATIONAL HOUSE is another home-like structure. Its function is to serve as a center for a program which brings to the campus each year at least fifteen foreign students who speak at least four different languages.

MISS MIMOSA...

MISS MIMOSA...

The Miss MIMOSA contest was a new event this year in which all campus organizations were asked to submit an entry. Each girl submitted her own photograph, and the winner was judged on the basis of beauty, personality, and appearance. The goal was to pick a girl who would be most representative of the college.

Judges in the contest were Martha Bray Dobbs and Mrs. Bob Phillips, bridal consultants at Loveman's in Birmingham.

Linda Green, sponsored by the Ushers' Club, was selected as Miss MIMOSA. Second place went to Denise Arousseau, sponsored by the International House, and third place went to Joan Lasseter, sponsored by Phi Beta Lambda.

WHO'S WHO

in American Colleges and Universities

The Honors and Awards Committee elects senior students to Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities upon the following considerations: scholarship, participation in extra-curricular activities, and future potential as a citizen. Nominations from the entire faculty play an important part in the consideration of a student. Since the school is limited by quota in selection, only those most recommended are selected for representation.

HONORS AND AWARDS COMMITTEE - Joe Garner, Student Government Association president, Mr. William E. Gilbert, Dr. William J. Calvert, Jr., chairman, and Mr. Lawrence R. Miles.

MISS HOMECOMING...

Lovely Iva Jo Hornbuckle, candidate from Pannell Hall, was elected by the entire student body to serve as Miss Homecoming during the Homecoming football game of October 3.

Miss Hornbuckle, a senior at Jacksonville, attended Etowah High School. Her major is Business Education, and her minor, economics.

While a student at Jacksonville, Miss Hornbuckle has participated in the Future Business Leaders of America and in the Civil Air Patrol.

During the Homecoming activities, the Queen's attendants were Miss Sue Merrill and Miss Linda Youngblood.

EVENTS

And occasions are long remembered.

HOMECOMING ...

Over the campus could be heard the sounds of hammers striking, nails and wood in the early hours of the morning of October 3. The day of Homecoming was at last here. The hard work continued until ten o'clock Saturday morning. At last a happy group of Jacksonville State College students put the final touches on the floats and cars, and the event was underway.

The parade, led by the Jacksonville Police Department, was an exciting spectacle. Next came the Jacksonville High School Band, and then J.S.C.'s marching "Southerners." The Ballerinas marched and danced in perfect timing as the parade headed toward the college. Following the bands came the floats and cars which were sponsored by different organizations.

The sponsoring organizations for the floats were the Junior Class, Law Club, R.O.T.C., Art Club, Freshman Class, Future Business Leaders of America, Science Club, and the Baptist Student Union. The B.S.U. won the first prize of $50.

As students and alumni came back to the campus, the decorations of the different dormitories were displayed. First prize for the dorms was won by Pannell Hall. Its decoration consisted of a huge pirate ship with a Buccaneer being forced to walk the gangplank by a Gamecock.

The concert given by the Jacksonville High School Band on Saturday afternoon was enjoyed by both students and alumni. A far-away look was seen in the eyes of the alumni. Apparently, they were remembering when they were once the happy group of students who worked so hard for a successful Homecoming Day.

This sign in front of Bibb Graves was one of many means of welcoming the alumni to the college.

This is a close-up view of the winning dormitory decoration, sponsored by Pannell Hall.

Undoubtedly, the prettiest girl in the parade was Miss Iva Jo Hornbuckle, the Homecoming Queen.

An impressive part of the parade was the performance of the Jacksonville State "Southerners." Here the color guard is shown, followed by the Marching Ballerinas and the band.

The Freshman-Junior Dance, an annual fall event, was held in the college gymnasium on December 7. Directing the orchestra was the famous Ray McKinley, playing in the Glenn Miller tradition with authentic Miller arrangements. Also featured was the Lenny Hambro Quintet.

Participating in the leadout for the Freshman Class were Joe Gilliland, President; Ward Burt, Vice-President; Jane Vaughn, Treasurer; Glenda Simpson, Secretary; Cooper Hurley, SGA Representative; Ray Jordan, SGA Representative; and Joe Gregory, Social Chairman.

Representing the Junior Class were Scott Williamson, President; Bill Anderson, Vice-President; Joan Lasseter, Secretary; Janet Hill, Treasurer; Shelby Chandler, SGA Representative; Catherine Dunaway, Social Chairman.

Joe Gregory and Harriet Rickman participate in the leadout.

J DAY . . .

Saturday, November 21, the J Day activities began on campus. Games were provided for faculty and students alike. First, the boys participated in a sack race. Then came the egg throwing and pie eating contests, not to mention the greasy pole climb and the greased pig chase.

The big event of the day occurred in Snow Memorial Field, where the girls of Pannell played the girls of Daugeette in a football game. Following the game came the closing event of the day, the sock hop in Chat-Em Inn.

Hal Hayes was master of ceremonies, ably assisted by Clark Gable and Wade Smith.

It was a Saturday afternoon full of fun.

Oh well, what's another pound?

Is it Cheeta?

THE TALENT SHOW . . .

At 7:00 on Wednesday night, October 21, the Student Government Association Talent Show was held. The Masters of Ceremonies were Hal Hayes and Clark Gable. Over thirty acts were presented.

In the individual category, the first place went to Errol Tabasky, who played the accordian.

The second place in the individuals went to Julia Phurrough, who sang "Till There Was You."

First place in the group competition went to Ken Mitchell and his band.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT ASSOCIATION . . .

The Student Government Association, organized in 1942 through the encouragement of President Houston Cole, has grown to be the dominant organization on the campus. Students choose their leaders in the elections held in April of each year. Preceding each election is a strong campaign for each candidate, which gives the students an opportunity to hear and discuss the proposals of each candidate.

Meetings of the Student Government are held on alternating Tuesday nights at 6:30 in room 217, Bibb Graves Hall. The S.G.A. is composed of four S.G.A. officers, presidents of the four classes, two S.G.A. representatives and a social chairman from each class, editor of the COLLEGIAN, editor of the MIMOSA, editor of the STU-JAX, one representative from each dormitory, and two commuters.

The officers for the 1959-60 school year are President, Joe Garner, Hartselle; Vice-President, Don McMillan, Brent; Secretary, Tressie Smith, Birmingham; and Treasurer, Bill Lazenby, Eclectic. Faculty advisor is Dr. J.M. Anders.

The publication contains articles written by the foreign students in which they express opinions on various matters and describe experiences incurred in this country.

Unlike other Jacksonville publications, the International Voice is primarily designed for students who no longer attend the college.

Editor for the year is Wanda Gilliland, and the associate editor is Judy Walker.

STUDENT HANDBOOK...

The Student Handbook is published each year in August for the purpose of helping students to become acquainted with the campus of Jacksonville State. Primarily, the Handbook is for entering freshmen, but this year it was given to all students.

The Handbook contains all the information necessary to help the students conform to the social requirements of the college. The Handbook includes such information as the history of the college, a description of the functions of the offices of the administration, a description of the college buildings, the residence hall regulations, the rules pertaining to conduct, the S.G.A. Constitution, and a description of the organizations on the campus.

The 1959-60 Student Handbook was edited by Diane Shutley, Decatur, Georgia. Mrs. R.K. Coffee was advisor, and Mr. Opal Lovett did the photographic work.

BASKETBALL TEAM...

1960 was a disappointing year for the Basketball team. With the material that was available, the coach expected to win at least 13 of the 18 games.

There were many reasons why the team as a whole fell short of the expectations. Bollinger, the best defensive player, dropped out of school. Cleland was ill, and several men got musclebound.

However, a number of the lettermen were back. Dupree, as always, was excellent in his position. Bobo and Ray came along well, and Cleland was a top player until he got sick.

Mainly, the team had a lack of reserve strength, but they did provide some excellent entertainment for the JSC students. In any year and under any conditions, the students are always proud of the basketball team.

BASEBALL TEAM...

The year of 1960 was a rebuilding year for the baseball team, as it lost eight of its regulars from the preceding season. This was the third year of organized baseball at Jacksonville, and the team was a young, hustling ball club, heavily represented by freshmen, that attempted to utilize its opponents' mistakes in order to win. The team depended a great deal on the work of Jimmy Emfinger and Donald O'Neal, who had represented the club before.

The opponents for the exhibition slate were newcomers to the Jacksonville campus. Alma College from Michigan was making a swing down south, and they wanted to play our team. The northern nine stayed for five days in the last of March.

Frank Lovrich again was the coach for the team, which has grown considerably under his guidance.

MUSIC

And creation of the beautiful is possible.

THE SOUTHERNERS...

The Southerners march again! This event, like the long chow line, the pep rallies, and the football games, announces that a new fall term has begun at Jacksonville State College.

This group is one of the most forward-looking, modern bands in the state. Actually, it is composed of five units: the Southerners, the Marching Ballerinas, the twirlers, the color guard, and the guidon flags.

Marching is done to a company front style show - an all-precision drill. This difficult precision style is in contrast to the "picture drawing" style used by many large college and university bands.

There is a new advanced sound characteristic, too. The typical Sousa or concert style has been discarded in favor of a more modern tone quality.

The whole field show has about ninety members, and the concert band numbers about sixty.

When we hear the theme song, "Stars Fell on Alabama," we know that the Southerners, under the able direction of John Finley and John Knox, are marching again.

JOHN FINLEY,
Band Director.

JOHN KNOX,
Assistant.

This is a view of the Jacksonville State Southerners in one of their many formations on the field.

BAND COLOR GUARD - John Jacob Jones, Dickie Draper, James Julius Brown, Tommy Martin.

BAND OFFICERS - Harold Summerville, president; Tony Traylor, secretary; Bill Lazenby, treasurer; Gerald Cofer, vice-president.

MEMBERS OF THE BAND (not in order) - Janice Collins, Betty Stillwell, Patricia Wooten, Kate Roberts, Carolyn Rodgers, Nancy Kimberly, James Brown, John Draper, Eugene Morrison, Vera McAbee, Eleanor Emberson, Tommy Martin, John Jones, Tom Camp, Al Berry, Hoyt LeCroy, Allan Summerville, Malcolm Lathers, Dorothy Powell, Ira Dean Harris, Sally Redden, Merrill Owens, Carol Borland, Harold Summerville, James Bentley, Ed McCollough, Bobby Ward, Horace Cater, Jimmy Lee, Emmett Veal, Suzanne Barton, Harriet Smith, Edna Glass, Donna Vaughan, Nancy Hagan, Jimmy Wilson, Tim Camp, Ronnie Hyche, Gail Maze, Bill Lazenby, Ronnie Griffiths, Garreth Bryant, Homer McCollum, Charles Moon, Ken Mitchell, Dillard Feigley, Gerald Cofer, Ramona Love, Pat Garnett, Jim Bennett, Sherry Pickrell, Melvin Morgan, Tony Traylor, Don Kidd, Freddie Pollard, Bobby Henderson, Wesley Thompson, Rod Ferguson, Peggy Snow, John Handy, Bennie Hayes, Ronnie Perkins, Paul Redden, Ward Burt, and Richard Traylor.

COMPLEMENTED BY...

The performances of the Jacksonville Southerners are of such calibre that they would be famous by themselves. However, there are other groups and individuals that add to the total effect, making the group the spectacular organization that it is.

Foremost among individuals is the Drum Major, Happy Tinsley. It is his job to direct the band on the field. Other individuals who are part of the band are Fran Chandler, twirler, and Jerry Hill, mascot.

As a group, the Marching Ballerinas have received much praise. Trained by Zenobia King, these girls march and dance to the music of the Southerners.

Although not a part of the Music Department, the Cheerleaders perform a vital function, and their presence would be missed if they were not included in this section.

CLASSES

And much is expected

SENIORS...

This was the big year for the seniors. Of course, they had graduation to look forward to, but they had other matters to think about. They were proud, and justly so, that they had completed their courses of study. These were the students who had often become discouraged, but who did not quit.

On Senior Week they were treated with respect. They were first in the line for dinner, and underclassmen carried their books, but more important, they wore their senior ribbons. This was a year of hard work and good fun, and it will be a year that they will always remember.

JUNIORS...

The juniors were the dedicated students this year. They were close to graduation, but not close enough. They had completed too much work to quit, so they concentrated on making better grades to pull up their quality point averages.

But they had their fun, particularly at the Freshman-Junior Dance, which featured Glenn Miller's Orchestra. The juniors played football, and talked in the Grab, but most of all, they studied.

SOPHOMORES...

The sophomores were the fun-lovers. College life had been hard their freshman year, but they had learned very well what they could do and what they could not, and they concentrated on the things they could do.

Of course, they studied, but just enough to survive. As a rule, the sophomores were also the hard workers. They did their share on the Sophomore-Senior Dance, and on other events such as J Day and Homecoming. They worked, to be sure, but they had a good time.

This was a hard year for the freshmen. Everything was so new, and so very, very different. They found that increased freedom meant increased responsibility, and some were prepared for this change, and some were not.

They inhabited Chat-Em Inn and the library, and they took part in all activities. The freshmen wanted to be a part of the college, and they were quickly assimilated. They were good examples for the upperclassmen because of their eager minds and their willing spirits.
